FFA SHOWMAN'S CREED

written by John B. Dimick III adopted by the FFA State Executive Committee, December 1994

As a showman, I believe in being honest and not taking unfair advantage of my fellow FFA members. I am proud to be a member of the FFA and subscribe to its Code of Ethics and I demonstrate good sportsmanship at all times.

I believe in the humane treatment of all animals under my care. I treat them with respect and provide for their well being at all times. I do not use abusive or questionable techniques when showing my animals, nor do I resort to fraudulent, illegal or deceptive practices when fitting them for show.

I believe that my participation in the FFA Livestock Program should serve to demonstrate my own ability and skill as a feeder and fitter. I do my own work and only accept advice and support from others.

I am proud of the Official FFA Jacket, and do not allow or participate in activities that serve to discredit it or the chapter it represents. I am confident in my own abilities in the show ring and do not need nor will I tolerate coaching from the sideline. I quickly follow the instructions of the officials and do my best to make the show better for everyone.

I understand that I have an important role in educating the public about animal agriculture. I take this responsibility to the FFA and my industry seriously.

To be shared with all animal exhibitors prior to the Oregon State Fair

FFA SHOW RING CODE OF ETHICS PREAMBLE

It is the intent of the FFA livestock show management to provide each and every member exhibiting at the fair an atmosphere of competitive spirit that promotes an educational experience, as well as honesty and integrity. As an FFA exhibitor, you have spent countless hours caring for your animal. Through this project, you have gained knowledge in the animal industry that includes selection, genetics, nutrition, health fitting, showing, economics and marketing. Hopefully you are also developing life skills such as communication, leadership and cooperation, as well as discipline, responsibility and financial management. By participating at the Oregon State Fair, you are putting your hard work and effort on display before judges who will evaluate your livestock at this show. You are also on display before the general public that views the FFA as an organization that teaches you, our future leader in agriculture.

It should give you the utmost satisfaction knowing you are entering this event with a clear conscience that you did your best, and will walk away with more knowledge than you had coming into this competition. Experience is a valuable teacher. It allows each of us as FFA members to gain knowledge and enables us to improve each time we participate in any type of function, be it livestock or non-livestock related. The FFA livestock show management strives to provide each participant an opportunity for a positive educational experience, and the potential to enjoy competitive excellence. Remember that the choice you make today will determine what you will have, be and do in the tomorrow's of your life.

The management of this livestock show expects each exhibitor to perform their own work and present an honest animal for competition to the best of their ability. There is no place for individuals that incorporate deception, dishonesty, cheating, or sacrifice the humane treatment of animals for the cost of winning at this show. Cheating defeats the purpose of the livestock show to teach animal husbandry and to improve the genetic pool. Those exhibitors who choose not to follow the rules and guidelines of the livestock show will not be allowed to participate.

Remember the mission of the FFA organization, as well as the "National Show ring Code of Ethics", adopted by the Oregon FFA Association Executive Committee in April 1996. You are a representative of over one million young people who are privileged to participate in fairs and livestock shows throughout the United States, and each of you need to uphold the integrity of the youth program you represent. Above all, be honest with yourself and your fellow livestock exhibitors.

The State FFA staff expresses to you the best of luck during the Oregon State Fair. We hope the experience you gain will be positive, educational, challenging, and above all help you to improve your skills in animal husbandry, provide you an understanding atmosphere of sportsmanship and to help promote honesty and integrity in everything you do.

Sincerely,

Oregon FFA Association

NATIONAL SHOW RING CODE OF ETHICS

This code of ethics applies to anyone exhibiting animals at livestock shows in the United States. It includes junior as well as open class exhibitors who compete in structured classes of competition. All classes of livestock offered at the livestock event are included; Cattle (Beef and Dairy), Goats (Angora, Boer, dairy meat, cashmere), Equine (donkey Horses, Mules), Llamas and other specialty animals, Poultry, Rabbits, Sheep, Swine, and any other livestock classes offered. This “National Show Ring Code of Ethics” will be enhanced with additional rules and regulations which individual fairs and livestock shows impose on the local, county, state and regional and national levels.

The following practices or procedures are unacceptable and are defined as being deceptive, fraudulent, unethical, and inhumane in the care, fitting, preparation and showing of all classes of livestock. The use of any illegal drugs is prohibited. Legal or illegal substance used to phenotypically alter the appearance of an animal entered in livestock events is prohibited (see rule #4). Use of illegal drugs is considered a pre-meditated act! Furthermore, any information obtained in the practice of illegal alteration of an animal will be turned over to the proper authorities for criminal prosecution. THIS IS A ONE STRIKE AND YOU'RE OUT POLICY. Exhibitor will forfeit any premium, awards, or auction proceeds, and will be prohibited from further competition at shows in the United States, as well as being subject to criminal prosecution if proven guilty.

The following is a listing of guidelines all exhibitors must follow to enter livestock at organized competitive events.

1. All exhibitors must have viable proof of ownership available to prove length of time animals have been owned. Market animals must be owned and under the exhibitors' daily care according to the established rules and regulations for the fair or livestock exposition. This also includes all small market animals (rabbits, and poultry). The official ownership date is the date shown on the bill of sale unless the animal was bred by the exhibitor, in which calving or birth records must be shown (local rules may determine ownership requirements for non-market animals). Registered breeding livestock must show the exhibitor as the sole owner of the animal on the breed association papers or certificates.
2. No exhibitor may show an animal which has been previously sold at an auction or sale as a market animal through another fair, livestock show, whether or not there is an actual change of ownership (progressive level shows excluded). Any method used to misrepresent the age of an animal for a class in which it is shown is deceptive and considered illegal. Showing an animal for another individual by claiming ownership in order to show in a specific livestock class or event is prohibited. False ownership is illegal.
3. FFA exhibitors are expected to care for and groom their animals while at the fair or livestock show (individual consideration will be given in extenuating circumstances). Only FFA exhibitors showing at the fair or livestock show may assist other showing FFA exhibitors. Adults will not be allowed to physically assist in the preparation of the animal while at the show. Verbal instruction will be allowed, but no physical assistance will be permitted. Physical assistance may be rendered by other junior aged members in good standing in the 4-H and FFA programs. Any violations of this rule will result in immediate disqualification from the show.
4. Treating of an animal internally or externally, with any irritant, counter-irritant, or other substance used to artificially change the conformation or appearance of an animal for show is considered unethical, inhumane, and is prohibited. This includes, but is not limited to the use of graphite, powders, hemp, artificial hair coloring (expect that coloring that is allowed within the breed), common projects such as fly spray, ointment or liniment used to the point that it is irritating (unless required to reduce edema a time of calving) or similar type products. The use of dyes, spray paint, or other artificial coloring with results in altering an animal's true and natural appearance and /or color is prohibited. Adding false hair or hair like material, fleece or skin at any point, spot or areas of the animal's body is illegal and will result in immediate disqualification. Any liquid or substance not considered part of an accepted and normal diet for livestock is deemed illegal and inhumane, for example; the use of alcoholic or carbonated beverages as a drench or filler, etc.
5. The use of tranquilizers, sedatives or depressants, which alter the physical or physiological state of the animal, is illegal. Exceptions to this rule would be a licensed, certified veterinarian's treatment for a recognized disease or injury, or recommendation for tranquilizing breeding animals in heat that might compromise the safety of others. The drugs must be approved the Food and Drug Administration for the use in meat producing animals. All exhibitors shall advise show management of any drugs or medications administered to an animal that might be detected at the time of showing or at meat inspection. The name of the drug, its purpose, the person who administered the drug, time and date of administration shall be presented to the show management prior to the showing and sale of the animal. Failure to report this information to the show management will result in severe penalty and/or disqualification. Any use of drugs or substances not approved by the FDA is strictly prohibited. All animals entered into livestock competition shall be subject to testing for foreign substances that exceed acceptable levels established by the FDA, FSIS, USDA or EPA.

During livestock events, in the case of animals requiring treatment, all medications shall be administered under the advisement or by a licensed veterinarian and the livestock show officials shall be notified.

6. Surgery, injection or insertion of foreign material under the skin and/or into the flesh of an animal to change the natural contour, conformation or appearance of an animal's body is illegal. This includes vegetable oil, silicon or other substances used to alter the shape of the animal. Acceptable practices of physical preparation that are allowed include, clipping of hair, trimming of hooves, dehorning or removal of ancillary teats.

7. The balancing of the udder by abnormal means that includes the use of a mechanical contrivance or the injection of fluid or drugs, setting the teats and/or occluding (sealing the ends) with a mechanical contrivance or with the use of a chemical preparation is illegal. Treating or massaging the udder or the attachments with an irritant or counter irritant is prohibited.

8. The use of inhumane fitting, showing and or handling practices or devices shall not be tolerated. For example, breaking of tails, striking of the animal to cause swelling or for bracing purposes, use of an electrical contrivance, or use of overly severe bits is not acceptable.

9. Direct criticism or interference with the judge, show management, other exhibitors, breed representatives or show officials before, during or after the competitive event is prohibited.

10. At the time an animal is sold at auction at the livestock show, the exhibitor shall be held directly responsible for animals that are rejected at a processing center due to the presence of foreign residues. The seller may be liable to the buyer for an amount equal to three times the purchased price and may also be liable for the attorney's fees and civil penalties. Show managements may share acceptable intelligence and evidence information with the FDA and USDA. If for any reason, any part of the meat animal carcass must be re removed by the FDA or USDA inspectors, the market price will be discounted.

11. Show management reserves the right to require animal health \certificates. Health inspections and diagnostic tests may be made before and after animals are on the livestock show premises for exhibitor and animal safety, or to inaugurate disease control procedure which may become necessary in emergencies as determined by animal health official.

12. Hogs must have water available to them at all times.

Any violation of the "National Show Ring Code of Ethics" or specific rules as designated by individual fairs and livestock shows will result in forfeiture of premiums and awards, disqualification, and may result in probationary status and/or loss of eligibility for future participation in organized livestock competition. Possible civil penalties may be imposed by the proper authorities based on evidence provided by the livestock show exhibitors in violation of the Federal Food, Drug and Cosmetic act/or the animal mistreatment, neglect and abandonment laws that apply on the local, state and national levels.

The decision of the livestock superintendents and/or FFA State Staff is final.

Other cooperation shows (the International Association of Fairs and Expositions, the American Livestock Show and Rodeo Managers Association, and the Western Fairs Association), will be notified of the action taken by show management, which may affect the eligibility of the individual, group or sponsoring organization for participation at other shows who are also members of these organizations.

I have read and understand the National Show Ring Code of Ethics, and my entry for the Oregon State Fair in the FFA division indicates that I will abide by these rules as set by the Oregon FFA Association, Oregon State Fair and the Management of these shows. I understand that failure to abide is grounds for dismissal from the show, and forfeiture of all awards and premiums as well as possibly being barred from future shows.

Protests concerning entries must be filed in writing, accompanied by a $50.00 deposit by an FFA Advisor with the FFA Specie Superintendent prior to the actual start of judging of the entry. Protests that are sustained will have the deposit returned.

The FFA State Staff & Superintendents reserves the right to deal with ethical violations in the following manners, depending on the severity: 1. Withhold premium money and cancel award. 2. Remove exhibits and/or exhibitor and possibly ban from future shows. 3. Report evidence to local school administration and other youth livestock show managers.

The finding of the Division Superintendent, General FFA Superintendent, and the official veterinarian shall be final and conclusive.

The Oregon State Fair will not be responsible for the consequences, direct or indirect, of any animal or exhibitor being disqualified or barred from showing.

OREGON EXHIBITION LIVESTOCK HEALTH REQUIREMENTS

ALL ANIMALS and PERTINENT HEALTH DOCUMENTS are subject to inspection by the veterinarian in attendance upon admission to, or while on, the exhibition grounds. No animal shall be admitted to or allowed to remain on the grounds that shows evidence of any infectious or contagious disease or any unsightly condition. The management reserves the right to require health inspections, diagnostic tests, treatments and/or other animal health measures or procedures which might become necessary in emergencies.

Winner will be announced at the Awards Program.

SECTION 1 — SHOWMANSHIP ROUND ROBIN SHOWMANSHIP CONTEST

Members exhibiting livestock are required to make entry for the showmanship award in at least one division their livestock is entered. Members who exhibit livestock and poultry/rabbits are required to show in a showmanship class for both areas. A showmanship entry may be made for each kind of livestock entered.

Animals to be shown in the showmanship class must have been shown in a conformation class in the exhibitor's name and be properly fit. Division Superintendents or Judges may eliminate an exhibitor from showmanship competition during any conformation judging if exhibitor and animal do not meet minimum showmanship factors as listed on the FFA Livestock Showmanship Scorecard. If this is done, the exhibitor will forfeit premium money for that given division.

Showmanship classes will be divided into Novice and Advanced Showmen. Novice Showmen include those exhibitors who have had no experience exhibiting with that specific species, including 4-H and Open Class prior to January 1, 2022. Advanced Showmen include those exhibitors who have had experience exhibiting with that specific species, including 4-H and Open Class prior to January 1, 2022. When there are more than 15 entries in each Division, the superintendents will split the entries into two or more classes with not more than 15 in each class. The first and second place winners in each showmanship class will compete for Champion and Reserve Champion Showmen for each species of livestock.

The Champion Showman of each species of livestock (beef, sheep, swine, dairy and goats) will then compete for the Grand and Reserve Grand Champion Showmanship Award. If a member wins a championship in more than one division, the member will be allowed to represent only one division, and must select the division in which to participate. The second place winner will represent the division relinquished by the first place winner. In order for a division Champion to compete, 5 (five) different exhibitors must have participated in Showmanship classes for that division.

A Grand Champion Showmanship trophy winner is ineligible for that award in subsequent years. He/she may compete for premiums where offered and is also eligible for awards in other divisions. If the member is Champion Showman in the division the next year, the Reserve Champion shall lead out to compete for the trophy.

All care and fitting of animals, must be done by the FFA member. Involvement of adults must be limited to advising. Any FFA animal fitted for showing by adults or professionals will be declared ineligible for premiums. Fitting and blocking is to be done in the FFA area only. Blocking and clipping stands are to be labeled with name of member and Chapter.

Animals used in the Round Robin Livestock Showmanship contest must have previously been shown in a Showmanship class and be of the same age group whenever possible.

Each participant for the FFA Grand Champion Showmanship Award will show five animals in addition to their own. These animals will be selected by the superintendent of the beef, dairy, goat, sheep and swine sections. Following this, each will show their own animal.

Each contestant will draw for the animal they will show upon entering the show ring.
