Dear Oregon FFA,

There's something we have to talk about. It's pretty serious so you might want to sit down. I've been thinking a lot and I just can't hold it in anymore. I've been meaning to say this since my fourth grade year when I first experienced an FFA convention, but I guess I just never got the nerve to say it. For the past four years of my life, you and I have been "involved" to say the least and I think I'm ready to take our relationship to the next level. I've thrown myself into our relationship; competing in every CDE, going to every camp and conference, running for every office, and at this point I just feel like it's the right time. Before I say anything, you have to know that you literally bring out what's best in me and you help me bring out the best in others. Because of you, I've developed this unreal passion for leadership and incredible desire to serve others. At this point I've come to understand that almost all of what I have accomplished I can accredit to you and I know I can no longer live without you. While there may have been times when we've struggled these past four years and occasions where we have lost sight of our goals, I always knew that we can only improve our relationship by enduring the hard times, just as we have progressed together through the good.

The life of service I now choose to lead, the one you prompted me towards, can only be fulfilled through the platforms of leadership you provide me and the people you provide for me to serve. I think the time has come now. It's time for me to tell you what I've been trying to spit out for the last two paragraphs. Time for you to understand exactly why I lead a life dedicated to service like I do and why I throw my entire self into developing my passions and dreams so I can help others develop theirs. I guess what I'm trying to say is... Well you just need to know... Oregon FFA, I love you! Phew! It's a euphoric feeling knowing you understand exactly why I live my life. You are the foundation for my acts of service and my trials of love I expend to others every single day. While you've given me so much in our relationship and have been ever generous providing me opportunities to serve hundreds of other FFA members, I only ask one more thing from you. I ask you, with love in my heart, that the feeling be mutual between us this year as I prepare to run for the 2011-2012 Oregon FFA State Officer team.

No matter the outcome of the fore coming year, I will always love you Oregon FFA and all who take part in you. Know that wholeheartedly I will do everything in my humanly power to show you the love I have for you and improve you in the best of ways, just like how you have impacted my life so positively. This next year will be instrumental in the development of our relationship. While you will have decisions to make and opportunities to take yourself, always remember that I have always loved you, and always will.

Love,

Jason Wetzler
