"Learning to do, doing to learn, earning to live, living to serve."

Fellow FFA Members,

Have you ever gone outside and stared up at the night sky in awe? I love gazing at the stars. In the vast sea of dark blue are millions of shining lights, each illuminating a small portion of the sky, however, the view of all of them together is truly something spectacular. In reality, each of us are like a star in the sense that we all have the ability to shed light into the lives of others. I consider myself extremely fortunate that over the past four years many of you have shared your bright, shining personalities with me.

A star begins as a cloud of dust and a cloud of dust would be an excellent comparison to what I was like before I owned a blue jacket. This organization challenges me to grow and evolve as a leader every day. Through FFA I have realized my passion, the thing that lights up my life, service. FFA has shown me that by using my skills to brighten other people's lives it in turn brightens my own. I can honestly say that while this organization has many great things to offer its members, the most valuable, is the members themselves. You may not realize it, but you can have an impact on members around you. If not for members who inspired, pushed, and supported me, I would not have taken advantage of the many opportunities this organization has offered me.

FFA members, as your lives become consumed with preparing and packing for a fun-filled state convention, do not forget to let your radiance show because you never know the influence one person can make. It is because of you, FFA members that I respectfully announce my candidacy for the 2011-2012 Oregon FFA State Officer Team. There is no other way I would rather spend the next year than by serving you, to have the opportunity to brighten your lives just as many of you have illuminated mine.

Sincerely,

"As we let our own light shine, we unconsciously give other people permission to do the same."
