Dear Oregon FFA,

For the first 5 years of my life I was an only child. Though I treasure those times of being my parents center of attention, I couldn't imagine my life without my two rambunctious and very rowdy brothers Cash and Ryder. I had a tough transition dealing with the fact that my parents had to worry about something other than me, and though it seems very selfish of me now, I will never forget these words my mom told me, "Sometimes there are people in this world who can't help themselves, so it is our job to help them." As a seven-year-old, you wouldn't typically think that a saying like this would be so profound on the heart, but as independent as I was at that age, I started to instill that in every action I took.

See the light in others and treat them as if that's all you see. ~
Dr. Wayne Dyer

With every leadership opportunity that came my way I wanted to apply the act of service. It wasn't until my first year as an Umpqua FFA District officer, that I saw this fully come into action. At our annual camp, each attendee must participate in a public speaking part. To many members, that have never experienced a public speaking role, this can be very nerve racking. I had a very introverted member in my group who struggled to even talk to me. My goal for that weekend was to make it so that she was comfortable and able to perform her speech to the best of her ability. My free time was centered around helping her and using my knowledge to make her feel confident. She was later to compete at camp in this contest where she placed second overall, began to open up, and showcase her extraordinary personality.

Oregon FFA, our purpose is to serve others. Whether we are helping our community or members we are to be the light in them. As a state officer, I would be beyond determined to make sure that each and every member, feels that they are important and that they in fact have a purpose. Whether they realize it or not there is sunshine in everyone and they deserve to see what others see in them. With this aspiring determination, I am beyond pleased to announce my candidacy for the Oregon FFA State Officer Team. I am beyond ecstatic to see you all at the 92nd Oregon FFA State Convention!

Sincerely

Bailey G. Mast
